Your letter of 18 November 1959 to Mr. Dulles has been referred to my office for consideration and reply.

We appreciate your taking the time to write to us in detail of your qualifications for service with us and your willingness to serve in whatever capacity might be useful. As it happens, our present recruitment is limited to the employment of clerical workers for routine office work and there are no openings which would take advantage of your versatility and broad range of talents and abilities.

Thank you for letting us hear from you. We regret that we cannot encourage your interest in serving with us.

Sincerely,

G. M. Stewart
Director of Personnel
